CONTINUING EDUCATION

Animation is one of the most creative, effective and visually captivating storytelling mediums available to us today.

Embedded within film, documentary, viral video and interactive content there are many applications for the technical instruction in animation, digital illustration, non-linear editing and sound design.

Using drawing, composition and narrative structure in a way that develops authentic characters, students make images move and tell stories that come alive. Through projects and visual exercises, students develop an online portfolio—enabling them to confidently pursue careers in gaming, simulation, special effects, digital engagement or graphic design.

Total Program Cost: $9,460

Based on current tuition rates; subject to change over the course of your program. Supplies, software subscription fees and other materials are not included.
